

TURK'S-HEAD WOGGLE

The following is a description showing how to tie the Turk's-head knot. This knot can make a slide or woggle Scout uniform neckerchief. It can be made using any rope material except for leather. A Turk's-head knot made of leather (the Wood Badge Woggle), is reserved for Scouting Leaders who have earned the Wood Badge.

The yellow rope is to indicate the stationary end (Y) or to indicate the first wrap, the green is to indicate a previous wrap, and the red is the working end (X) or final wrap.

- Place the braid around three fingers of the left hand, palm up (fig 1). The working end of the braid is red (X), the stationary end is yellow (Y). Alternatively, one can use a round pole with the desired diameter (such as a broom handle) to build the woggle around.
 - Bring working end over the stationary yellow end and around the back of the hand (fig 2).
 - Thread working end over first wrap and under yellow (figs 2-3).
 - Turn left hand over, palm down (fig 4).
 - Pull the second green wrap over the first yellow wrap (fig 5). Hold the green wrap in position by placing the forefinger of the left hand between the green and yellow wraps.
 - Thread end X under yellow and up through the crisscross loop thus formed by yellow and green (fig 6).
 - Thread end X over green and under yellow again (fig 7-8).
 - Turn left hand over, palm up (fig 9). Bring end X along side of and parallel to stationary end Y by threading the strand over green, under yellow and over green again (fig 9-10).
 - The start of the second wrap is indicated in fig 10. Lay the working end on the right hand side as you follow the yellow strand around the knot.
 - The Turk's-head neckerchief slide is formed by following this strand Y around three times; i.e., until there are three braided strands parallel to each other all around the slide (figs 10, 11, 12). It may be necessary to go back around the knot and take in any slack.
 - The beginning of the third time around is shown in fig 11. Fig 12 indicates end X near the completion of its third time around.
- It is important to adjust the slide so that it will be neat, as well as the right size. Then, too, it will be necessary to remove the slide from your fingers as you thread end X around the for second and third time.
- The slide ends at the same point at which it was begun (Y). Hang a bead on each end of the knot (secure with a figure eight knot), or slide both ends underneath a convenient strand on the inside of the Turk's-head knot and trim. This completes the neckerchief slide.
